Revising an existing recorded Sewage Reserve Area (SRA)

approved for on-site sewage disposal. The health department approval on the plat certifies that the SRA shown hereon is in compliance with the pertinent Health Departments laws and regulations as of the approval date. This approval does not serve as a sanitary construction permit and the property owner is notified that he must still apply for and obtain a sanitary construction permit before developing the property. At the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property including additional testing and evaluation.	The purpose of this plan is to revise a sewage reserve area (SRA). The SRA as shown is Departments laws and regulations as of the approval date. This approval does not serve as a sanitary construction permit and the property owner is notified that he must still apply for and obtain a sanitary construction permit before developing the property. At the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	approved for on-site sewage disposal. The health department approval on the plat as a sanitary construction permit and the property owner is notified that he must still apply for and obtain a sanitary construction permit before developing the property. At the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	certifies that the SRA shown hereon is in compliance with the pertinent Health apply for and obtain a sanitary construction permit before developing the property. At the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	Departments laws and regulations as of the approval date. This approval does not serve the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	as a sanitary construction permit and the property owner is notified that he must still 26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	apply for and obtain a sanitary construction permit before developing the property. At
Health Department may require more determinative information about the property	the time of permit application the property will be evaluated pursuant to COMAR
1 1 1	26.04.02 and all other applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Caroline county including additional testing and evaluation.	Health Department may require more determinative information about the property
e	including additional testing and evaluation.

Approved: _		_ Date: _
-	Caroline County Approving Authority		